Use of Planes Not Yet Open To The Public Statement Says

(Associated Press) CHICAGO, April 13—The Ford Motor company's plane, the first commercial plane on the Detroit-Chicago air route landed here today at 11:13 a. m.

DETROIT, April 13—The flight from Detroit, to Illinois, today of the "Maiden Dearborn" marks the opening of a company-operated airplane service, which is to be extended gradually until several planes will be leaving here daily on regular flying schedules, the Ford Motor company announced today.

The Ford Motor company, the announcement says, has operated its own railroads, ocean and lake steamship lines and motor truck lines. Now it utilizes, under its own control, every type of modern transportation. For the present flights will be made chiefly over the Detroit, Chicago line, with landings at the Ford airport here and at the United States mail air-drome at Maywood, Ill., a Chicago suburb.

A motor truck was to meet the plane at Maywood to carry the cargo of company mail and express from the flying field to the Hedgewich plant of the Ford company.

The other unit of the proposed Ford aeronautical transport will await demonstration of the value of the service inaugurated today.

The Ford air lines, today's statement said, will not be available for public use, nor connected in any way with outside interests.

The line is to be operated exclusively for company business and no outside business enters into the service statement continued.

LEGION DRIVE TO CONTINUE TO GOAL

Legionnaires Will Continue Until Quota Is Realized

The Morgan County Post of the American Legion announced today that the drive for the $1,500 quota would be continued until the full amount asked for in this county shall have been raised. The fund at the present time stands near the $600 mark.

It was the opinion of the officials that the slowness of the people to respond has been occasioned by the failure of the Legionnaires to see them. The Legion is asking today that in case individuals are not seen that they mail checks to Commander Joe M. Pettey or to I. V. Timberlake adjutant.

The contributions through Monday noon were given as follows.

KIWANIS TO BEGIN WORK EARLY DATE

Contractors To Look At Building Site This Afternoon

Losing no time in preparing to have their new home ready for the Inter-Club meeting to be held here on June 11th, the Morgan Kiwanis club began the preliminary work this afternoon for getting the former Episcopal building in shape for that date.

Contractors were on the ground to estimate and bid upon the necessary work that will have to be done before the club can move into its new home.

It is understood that the greater part of the work of repair will be done in the interior of the building where a great deal of plaster work must be done. It is said that the floor is in very good condition. The windows and doors to the building will have to be replaced.

The property affords ample parking space for automobiles in the rear of the building. This was one of the features that made the site so acceptable to the club membership. The club is planning to make a community center out of the new property and will not use the club for their own meetings alone.

Funeral Held For George Arantz

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock at St. Ann's Catholic church for George Arantz, beloved Decatur resident, who died Friday evening. The services were conducted by Rev. Father J. M. Sheridan and interment was made in city cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Augustus Albes, J. A. Nelson, William Moseley, M. H. Todd, A. D. Jervis and Sam Frank. A large number of florals attested the esteem in which Mr. Arantz was held by those who knew him best.

During the yellow fever epidemic here in 1888, Mr. Arantz acted as mayor of Decatur, and in spite of the danger to himself, remained in the city, aiding those who were suffering and looking after the funeral arrangements for those who died of the disease.

Student Ends His "Life Of Failures"

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 13—Robert Preston, 21-year-old Northwestern University student, and son of a wealthy Oak Park family, ended what he considered a "life of failures" with a strange death in Lake Michigan yesterday.

A bullet wound in the head and a brief case of diaries, strapped to him and weighed down with three heavy pieces of iron were the conclusions of the youth, apparently drawn from his self-confessed philosophy "when you get to the end of your rope, tie

BRIAND PROGRESS TOWARD FORMING CABINET IS SLOW

He Cannot Finish Task Before Tomorrow, President Told

SITUATION STILL FAR FROM BRIGHT

Socialists, Holding The Key, Remain For Premier Herriot

(Associated Press)

PARIS, April 13.—Ex-Premier Briand, asked by President Doumergue, to form a cabinet, abandoned late today any idea of completing his task before tomorrow.

It was announced at six p. m., that he shortly would visit the presidential palace and inform the executive there was no chance of forming a cabinet tonight.

Senator Demonzie, finance minister in the Herriot cabinet, was summoned to the palace this afternoon and there discussed with the president a proposal to form a one-day ministry to vote the bill, extending the limits on currency circulation and borrowing by the state.

M. Demonzie has been suggested widely to head such a ministry. At noon the impression in parliamentary circles was that M. Briand would decline the offer of the premiership tomorrow and that M. Painleve, president of the chamber of deputies or Senator Rene Renoult would be called upon to try to unravel the political tangle.

M. Painleve thus far has refused to undertake the task.

The predictions in the chamber lobbies are that any new government formed by a coalition would be short-lived and that M. Briand again would, in a short time, be asked to form a concentration government.

The socialists hold the key to the situation and do not appear inclined to help out any combination other than another Herriot cabinet. Their leading organ says today a new ministry must be organized either by former Premier Herriot, or by the opposition; that if the left bloc remains in power, M. Herriot is the logical and only possible leader. The socialists opposed Briand's efforts to form a new ministry and are using passive resistance.

COUNT TO ADJUDGE PRESIDENT'S POWER

Briefs Will Be Filed In Supreme Court By Attorneys

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The president's power to remove from office his own or his predecessor's appointees was at issue in a case reached for argument today in the supreme court, with the executive and government branches of the government represented as contestants.

The case became one for construction by the highest court of the president's power under the constitution to remove executive appointees to office, if created by congress, when the senate intervenes in the appeal of the late Frank S. Myers, who was removed as postmaster at Portland, Ore., in 1920 by President Wilson.

Myers sued for back-pay on the grounds his removal was illegal. Briefs forming the basis of their opposing contentions were filed by Solicitor General Back for the President and Senator Pepper for the senate.

Contending that congress had full power over all government offices, except those created by the constitution, Senator Pepper in his brief upheld the provisions of the law prescribing the "consent of the senate"

Information Is Turned Over To The Lake County Officers

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 13.—Mrs. Annie Cunningham, whose husband and four of their children died after brief illnesses within six years, today was taken into custody at the county hospital by two police sergeants and a matron from Gary, Ind., and taken back there for detention, pending further investigation of the mysterious deaths.

The exhumation of the bodies near Valparaiso, Ind., where the Cunningham family lived before moving to Gary, was to take place today to permit chemical analysis of the contents of the vital organs.

The poisoning of Mrs. Cunningham's only surviving son, David, Jr., who is recovering in a Chicago hospital, led to an investigation here by State's Attorney Crowe and Coroner Oscar Wolff, who turned over their information to the authorities of Lake County, which includes Gary, Ind., and of Porter County, of which Valparaiso is the county seat.

Mrs. Cunningham was released by the county hospital, where she attempted to choke herself with a bed sheet last night, to state's attorneys men, who then transferred her to the custody of the Gary police by the formal signing of release papers.

Valet Confesses Slashing Throat Of Dancing Girl

(Associated Press)

LONDON, April 13.—A story of fatal jealousy was told in court today when Ernest Rhodes, 18, a valet, appeared to answer a charge of murdering Grace Blakaller, 16, an actress and dancing instructor who died Friday from the effects of a slash in the throat the night previous.

A statement was read, alleged to have been made by Rhodes, admitting he had cut the girl's throat.

The act, the statement says, was committed in a fit of jealousy as the dancer chaffed him about other boys she might see during the Easter holidays.

Rhodes said he was not aware he had slashed the girl fatally and did not know she was dead until two days later. He then surrendered.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., April 13.—Parker Hewitt, 76, of Northport, this county, was burned to death, his daughter, Miss Linnie Hewitt, was seriously burned and his wife sustained a broken ankle in jumping from a two story window, when the family home was destroyed by fire last night.

Mr. Hewitt, trapped by the fire which had gained much headway when the family awoke, was rescued by Gordon Grayson, a young man who lived with the family.

After being carried to safety, however, he returned to the house, unobserved, presumably to save some of the furnishings, and had burned to death before those who had gathered realized he was missing.

The three members of the family and young Grayson were all asleep on the second floor. The stairway already was a mass of flames and the front of the building was burning freely when they awoke.

Finding retreat by the stairs cut off, Mrs. Hewitt, who is 70, jumped from the second story window, breaking an ankle and sustaining other injuries which may prove serious. The daughter, not knowing that the rear window was free of fire, jumped from the front window and was seriously burned about the face and head.

On being picked up, Mrs. Hewitt told young Grayson, who had already jumped that her husband, more feeble than she, was in their room calling: "I'll never get out." Grayson secured a ladder and brought the old man to safety, only to see him return to the house and be burned with it.

TEMPLARS ATTEND EASTER SERVICES

Sir Knight Orear Gives Splendid Talk On This Occasion

The Templars of De Molay Chapter, No. 14, Knights Templar, attended Easter service at the First Methodist church on Easter Sunday afternoon. The Templars heard a splendid sermon by the Pastor, Reverend Claude Orear. The pastor used the subject, "If ye be risen with Christ."

Forming at Masonic Hall early in the afternoon the Templars marched to the church. The line of march lead down First avenue into Lee street thence into Oak street and to the church. The arch of steel was formed upon going into the church and in coming out of the church.

An enjoyable musical programme preceded the message of the pastor. The Misses Louise and Mai Tisdale pleased with the duet, "The Earth's Rejoicing." The solo, "As It Began to Dawn," sung by Mrs. Joseph M. Pettey was a rare treat, appropriate for this occasion.

Reverend Orear's sermon was all received by the audience. The talk was delivered in a quiet, convincing, straight forward manner, pleasing to the audience.

The recessional hymn sung and the benediction said, the Templars filed out of the church having enjoyed a splendid programme.

(Associated Press)

DALLAS, Texas, April 13.—Four negroes were taken into custody early today in connection with the death of Ryan Adkins, 28, and the attack on Mrs. May Steer, 30, a widow, near the Southern Methodist University campus Sunday night.

The negroes were arrested at a road camp not far from the scene of the tragedy.

Two negroes attacked the couple. Adkins and Mrs. Steer were driving slowly when two negroes jumped on the running board of the automobile and clubbed Adkins with pistols and clubs.

ACCIDENT VICTIM'S BODY HELD; SON AND DAUGHTER SOUGHT

Man Killed On Road Is Believed To Be "S. Evans"

TRACE ADDRESS ON A MAGAZINE

Chief of Chicago Police Searching City For Two Children

(Associated Press)

The radio will be utilized Monday evening in an effort to definitely establish the identity of a man, whose body is being held at undertaking parlors here and to locate a son and daughter believed to live in Chicago.

The man, who was killed Saturday late north of Hartsville on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, is believed to be S. Evans, who lived a short time ago at Ellsville, Miss. The body was brought here Saturday night on the accommodation from Birmingham and turned over to Brown's undertaking parlors by Louisville and Nashville officials.

The body was being held here today while efforts were being made to get in touch with the son and daughter of S. Evans.

The man apparently was between 45 and 50 years of age. Nothing of importance toward identifying him was found on his person, except a small margin of a magazine, on which was inscribed "Box 187, Ellsville, Miss."

On investigating it was discovered that the box in the Ellsville post office was used by a Mr. Glenn. Communication with him brought to light the information that a man by the name of S. Evans worked for him up to about one week ago and departed. Glenn said he wrote the address on the margin of the piece of magazine.

Mr. Glenn reported the man was named S. Evans and that he had a son and daughter residing in Chicago. The son was said to be a plumber and the daughter was in training to become a nurse.

The Chicago chief of police has been making every effort today to get in touch with these people, but without success.

The Chicago Tribune will broadcast the information Monday evening in an effort to locate the son and daughter. The Tribune's station is "W. G. N."

TURIN WILL HARBOUR PRINCE DURING HIS COLLEGE DAYS

TURIN—The residents of Turin, the capital of old Piedmont, which is bound by so many ties of history and affection to the house of Savoy of which King Victor Emanuel is the present head, are awaiting with pleasurable expectation the arrival here in the near future of Crown Prince Humbert who is to make Turin his home for several years while the studies at the War School.

Workmen are busy themselves with the task of preparing the prince's apartment in the royal palace, while committees are arranging to welcome the heir to the throne of Italy.

Humbert's matriculation in the war school will be most regrettable and he will benefit by no special dispensations for royalty. He will submit to the rigid discipline of the institution and will attend all the classes with the other students. He will have a modest personal allowance and will lead a relatively simple existence. Already he has chosen as his "court" a number of persons who have attended him since he was a child.

The young prince who is an ardent student of the history of Piedmont, has arranged a number of excursions to the many famous castles of the region; which will be facilitated by the fact that he will have at his disposal two motor cars and a number of horses.

Page School Aims To Solve Causes Of World Discord Says Johns Hopkins Head

Countrywide interest has been manifested in the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations which it is proposed to establish at the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, sometime before the opening of the school year next fall.

Dr. Frank J. Goodnow, president of Johns Hopkins, has outlined the character and scope of the proposed institution, for which $1,000,000 is now being sought to establish an initial endowment fund.

The Page School, Dr. Goodnow says, is designed to search out scientifically the underlying causes which determine the public policies of States, rather than to merely study technical rules of diplomatic intercourse.

"Until these causes are determined and set forth in a way that will command the confidence of governments and their people," says the university president, "national policies will have to be adopted not only without an adequate knowledge as to their wisdom, but also without a comprehension as to their connection with or effect upon the policies of other States."

The primary purpose of the school will be the training of investigators and teachers in this special field.

"In order to emphasize the advanced character of the work to be done in the school, those appointed to the teaching staff will in all cases be persons who are specialists in their respective subjects and devoted to research," Dr. Goodnow explains. "The main emphasis will be laid upon investigation—upon stimulating the students to engage in research and upon training them in the methods to be employed if that research is to be fruitful of results."

It is expected, the Johns Hopkins head states, that not only will the school itself through publication of its findings make valuable contributions to existing knowledge of international relations, but that a trained body of investigators and teachers will be developed to carry on the work after they leave the school.

"The school will not be a 'Peace School,' but its work will necessarily promote the cause of peace. With understanding will come release from the errors that give rise to unnecessary international friction and discord. As the motto of the Johns Hopkins University declares, veritas vos liberabit—the truth will set you free."

FARM PRODUCTS OF INDIANS SHOW MATERIAL INCREASE

WASHINGTON, April 13—The little lad who has a weakness for war paint, feathers and Indian tales may take heart at the Indian bureau's announcement that there are still 345,000 of these primitive Americans in the land.

The attention of the Sixty-ninth Congress will be called to the fact that, unless the nations' lawmakers make other provisions the period of government wardship in the five civilized tribes will expire in 1931. There are about 17,000 Indians under Federal supervision in the five civilized tribes and over the country the bureau of Indian affairs has 200,000 "restricted" Indians, who are supervised.

The Indians themselves, Indian Bureau officials say, are anxious to have the restriction extended, as they desire government guardianship to conserve their lands.

Under the June 1924 law all native-born Indians are now citizens of the United States, many of whom are under wardship. There are 190 tribes of Indians now in the country, many of them being small groups.

The number of Indian children in schools, the health appropriations by congress, Indian hospitals and the value of farm products raised by those citizens have materially increased in the past decade. Farming and stock raising have developed appreciably among the Indians, and large sums of money are being spent by the government on irrigation projects on their lands, the Indians being the country's first irrigators. The Navajo Indians in particular are great sheep raisers, their women being noted weavers of blankets.

GASOLINE AND TOBACCO COME CHEAP IN TEXARKANA

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—While the other people of Arkansas pay four cents tax on every package of cigarettes they smoke, four cents a gallon on every gallon of gasoline and ten cents a gallon on motor oil burned in their automobiles, the city of Texarkana is "sitting pretty."

Texarkana, over on the southwestern border of Arkansas, with part of the city in Texas and part in Arkansas, does not have to pay the cigarette and tobacco tax, and pays only one cent a gallon on gasoline. Even the remainder of Miller county, in which the Arkansas city is located, must pay the taxes.

The state of Texas does not levy a tobacco tax and levies only one cent a gallon on gasoline. As a result, when the tobacco and gasoline tax laws were passed Texarkana was exempted from their provisions. It was provided, however, that whenever the state of Texas adopted such tax laws they also should apply to Texarkana. Thus, Texarkana, in Arkansas,

Premier Edouard Herriot of France is facing the gravest crisis of his political career after practically announcing a levy on capital. Gaston B. CIGARETTES FIND FAVOR WITH ITALIAN SMOKERS

ROME.—Italian cigarettes and tobacco are now on sale in all the markets of the world, while the consumption and sale in Italy of home-produced smoking articles are increasing by leaps and bounds, according to a report of the governmental tobacco monopoly.

Throughout Italy, it is stated, there is a growing tendency to abandon cigar smoking in favor of cigarette smoking and since imported cigarettes are quite expensive, the Italian monopoly is reaping the benefit of the change in smokers' tastes. The consumption of the average individual smoker has increased 40 per cent since before the World War.

"I do! I do!—Go!" Weakly she stamped her foot, then sank into her chair, burying her face in her hands in a fit of grief.

A wild caricature of a laugh broke from Barbara's lips. She looked at her mother's shaking form, then at her aunt's rigid figure and hostile countenance.

"Very well," she said slowly, "will go." As if dazed, she put up her hand to her head, and gasped.

"Very Well; I Will Go."

She looked round the familiar room. Presently the drawing room door closed, with deliberate quietness, behind her.

Barbara's sudden appearance at the flat brought Mrs. Field little surprise. She had heard the rumblings of the storm approaching in Darbury, had seen the lowering clouds; but, with rare insight, she forebore to interfere. Some storms, being inevitable, are best left to themselves. "Forewarned and forearmed," one's work comes later with salvage and reconstruction. Not a whole regiment of engineers could pull down the wall encircling Mrs. Stockley's horizon; of that Mrs. Field was certain. In time, when the shock, and—above all—the talk, had subsided, a few bricks might, with infinite tact, be drawn away, allowing an occasional glimpse of wide uplands beyond. . . . But that would not be yet. . . . In the meantime it was the girl's quivering soul which needed infinite delicacy in handling, which wavered, struggled, sank gradually lower into the dark wilderness of morbidity, from which those who get lost therein take long to discover a way out; and, when they do, find the burrs and thorns still sticking to them, never to be quite shaken off.

Margaret Field had been through all this herself, years ago. No words, she knew, could help. She watched the girl closely, but made no attempt to force her. Putting back the clock of her own days, she entered the black pit with her, understanding her darkness.

Barbara went away. She gave no address. "I want to feel cut off from everything and everybody who knows me—for a time," she said, when her friend expostulated.

A remote Cornish village, trailing its whitewashed cottages down a precipitous narrow lane bordered by little cobbled ditches wherein ducks waddled and talked together—winding round a corner between fragrant gardens that merged into gray walls of houses and banks which, in summer, oozed ferns from every crevice, burst forth into fires of purple-red fuchsias and bulged out into great clumps of hydrangeas; pausing for breath, while the lane dropped to the old inn at the valley below, the white and gray cottages straggled along on either side the stream gurgling over its stony bed between rolling combs in the valley behind, to the harbor which was its goal. . . . Such was the retreat to which Barbara found herself.

The chance memory of a friend's rapture had led her weary footsteps thither—to a small gray house near the river, kept by a bright young woman and her true-hearted husband.

Here, unknown and unnoticed, away from the stings of malicious tongues, the inquisitive world—not even seeing a newspaper—she wrestled with the questions and doubts and miseries of her heart.

"If the joy of your own personal love is withdrawn," Margaret Field had said, one day in London, "the seed is never lost. You may think it is for a time; but, later, it shoots and is nourished by experience, growing in a strong plant which will develop into a flowering tree of many branches." The truth of that, too, was dimly in her mind as she watched the stars come out above the harbor—in the

12 Years Ago TODAY

From The Daily of April 12th, 1913
April 12 falling on Sunday there was no issue of The Daily on that date.

A DAILY PRAYER—We pray Thee we may hear Thy voice in the call of duty and thereby avoid disappointment, bitterness and failure.

Experience rarely is bought at a bargain.

Easter is an event of only once a year, but the beautiful story of the Resurrection will live forever.

One brand of optimist is the congressman or legislator who votes a salary increase for the next congress or legislature, believing firmly that he will receive direct benefits therefrom.

Twin City churches on Easter reminded us that more room is needed for the people. The Jackson street Church of Christ is building at the present time with an eye for future needs.

Now that we have gained the public's attention with the splendid co-operation shown in the matter of the building of a bridge, let us endeavor to hold the public's eye by standing for every sound and progressive move.

The latest California law regarding the sale of booze or food containing wood alcohol is one of the best that has been enacted in the whole country. A person found to have sold liquor causing the death of any person is to be charged with murder in the first degree. Such methods will serve as a check on the activities of liquor running of any sort.

KIWANIS HOME TO BE A REAL VALUE

The Morgan Kiwanis club has closed the deal with the owners of the Episcopal church site at the intersection of Ferry and Walnut streets. The club has not taken this step for their own convenience alone. The club had other organizations in mind when they decided to bid for the property, build their own club home. The membership realized the need of a community house in the cities and bought this property with that idea in thought.

It is the splendid plan of the club to offer the building to other clubs and organizations who may feel the need of additional space for their meetings and their conventions.

In addition to utilizing a property that has lain idle
for a number of years and building a home for their own, the Kiwanians have shown that wonderful spirit of building and giving that has made the organization the club of its class without a peer.

JUST A WORD OF THANKS

The editorial staff of the Daily desires to thank those who have heaped words of praise for the paper's part played in the passing of the recent bond issues. While we feel that the real work of passing the bond issues belongs to those gentlemen who worked so earnestly and faithfully in the face of seeming defeat still we thank those who have given us the credit for the little work that was done.

It is always the policy of the Daily, and it should be the policy of every newspaper, to aid the movements that seem to be beneficial to the cities. It is a newspaper's work to aid in the building of a city. We believe that the spanning of the river will mean a great deal to the section, as we have said before. In any other movements that we believe to be the best for the cities, movements that will lead to prosperity for the communities and aid financially and morally in the upbuilding of this section, you will find the Daily in the front pulling in the traces next to the individual who believes alike.

We thank you again for the kind expressions that you have said to us and sent to us. (We are just as proud of the passage of the bond issues as you are.)

THE LEGION DRIVE WILL CONTINUE UNTIL THE QUOTA IS RAISED

Advices from Legion post headquarters are to the effect that the local post is a bit disappointed over the slow response of the county in the Legion drive for the county's part in the $5,000,000 endowment fund that is being raised for a most worthy cause, but the boys are not discouraged at the end of the second week. Had the term "discouraged" been entered in their makeup, they would never have accomplished what they did in 1917
and 1918.

The Legionnaires are going to continue the drive through this week. The quota is going to be raised if the cities of Albany and Decatur have to give the full $1,500 quota. Do not fail them when they come to you for help in pledging their aid to their fallen buddies and the widows and orphans of veterans.

Up to this time only a little over a third of the amount has been realized. It is possible that a great many people have not been seen. Do not hesitate to aid on that account. Send your check to the local post, the officials of the local post, the newspaper, or any business man, and it will be turned over to the Legionnaires.

Morgan county has never failed to do her share at any time and we are not afraid that she will fail in this undertaking. The Legionnaires are going to "fight it out on this line if it takes all summer," but there is no cause to sit back and wait for the end of the drive. The drive will end when the quota is oversubscribed.

REVIVALS OF SPRING SEASON HAVE HAD A GOOD INFLUENCE

In the various churches over the cities revivals have been in progress for the past month. All these revivals were brought to a close on Sunday night with the exception of the Austinville revival and the increased religious activity that is to begin at the Decatur Baptist church within a short time.

The influence of the revivals has been wonderful for the cities. The churches have been filled to capacity for the services no matter at what time during the day or the evening hours that they have been held. People have been added to the church forces and renewed religious activity has been shown in every section of the cities. The effect of the teaching of God can not be other than good, good for the people, good for the pastor preaching the doctrine and good for the communities in which we live and work.

It sometimes takes a revival to awaken the souls of people to the need of the greatest aid to humanity, the creed of the Christian. Folks may get tired of hearing the same minister year in and year out and they may allow their zeal to sleep a little. The increased activity in religious circles has put smiles on men's faces, gladness in their hearts, reawakened in them a love for their fellow beings, and above all this has inspired the feeling and the desire to live as better men and follow the lives of Christians.

CRIME SHOULD BE SOUGHT OUT AND NOT DUG UP

The daily papers of the day are carrying large headlines on the Chicago poisoning case where it is being alleged that a mother has poisoned five in the family.
They have even found a great quantity of arsenic in her home. How terrifying.

On this theory they are going to work to exhume the bodies and determine whether those who died were poisoned, or just died a natural death. It is said that the deaths were close together which all leads to the belief that the mother poisoned the entire family. Do not forget that the family meant those who were closer to her than her own life.

Now isn't that a fine thing for states attorney's to be up in the air over? Isn't that a splendid theory to put into practice and especially on salaries paid them by the people themselves. Sounds as if they are having some difficulty in finding crime. Imagine that in Illinois, Illinois with her Herrin, and her Chicago, her Leopolds, and her Loeb and states attorneys are busy probing deaths that occurred in the past in an effort to place the blame on a woman who kept a quantity of arsenic in her house.
The same theory might apply to the man who keeps a full gasoline tank. He could be convicted of arson on the same theory if the gasoline happened to catch fire.

So they can find nothing to do but practice upon theory that the bodies contain poison and therefore the woman that kept some arsenic in her house did the poisoning.

Crime in this country does not have to be dug up to be prosecuted. Officers have but to look about them and they can find enough work to last them twenty-four hours a day and three hundred sixty-five days a year.

The Shepard case in Chicago seems to have started this craze of exhuming bodies. Only a few days ago a couple in Chattanooga were sent to prison because some bones were found beneath their house.
These bones were declared to be the skeleton of an aunt who had lived with them. It was said that they did not get along with the aunt and it is probably on this testimony more than any other that the two were sent to jail. The Shepard case however is more conclusive. A motive has been found for that crime. If there was any motive found in the case at Chattanooga it has not yet been made public and as for this case in Chicago there is no reason given whatsoever other than that the woman had some arsenic in the house and that the relatives, whom she probably cared for a great deal, died with only short intervals separating their deaths.

Let the officials get busy with the boot-leggers, the rum runners, the fleecing schemers, the gamblers, the dope peddlers and a thousand other kinds of vultures preying upon human flesh and human souls and they will not go to the trouble to dig up occurrences and skeletons of the past decade.

The present crime in the country is bad enough without raising the shroud of the past to discover the cause of a death of a decade ago. Such action is a menace to every citizen in the country. A name can be blemished a character and a home wrecked solely on a theory that the average human being knows nothing of and cares less about.

SAVING GIRL BABIES

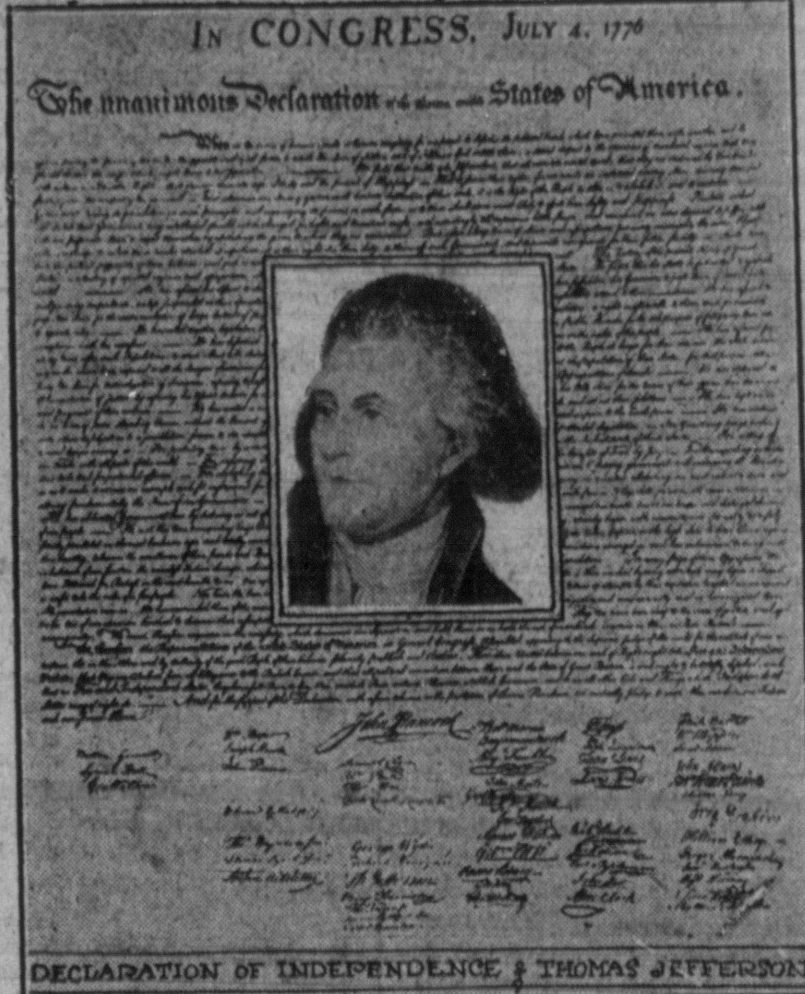

Knud Rasmussen, Arctic explorer, has been engaged by the Canadian government to become a sort of missionary to work among the Eskimos of the Hudson Bay territory and the region still farther North. His efforts will be directed at stopping the custom of killing girl babies, which has for years existed among the primitive dwellers of this far Northern land.

Dr. Rasmussen, who recently returned from a stay in the Arctic that lasted four years, says that the Eskimos do not have the same moral viewpoint that dwellers in less rigorous climates have. Life is hard and food is scarce in the region contiguous to the North Pole. The life of a child has little value, and a baby means one more mouth to feed when food is scarce. Therefore, the custom of smothering girl babies at birth has sprung up and is generally followed. The killing is not regarded as a crime—it is a commonplace duty.

The girl baby is saved when an offer of marriage is made, either by a man for himself, or in the name of a boy baby. Then the girl baby becomes an asset to the family in which she has made an unwelcome appearance.

Dr. Rasmussen has not announced what methods he will use in an effort to stop the practice of infanticide.
Indeed, the method may not be decided until after a conference with the Canadian authorities at Ottawa. But as the cause of the practice is economic, it would seem that the remedy, if one is to be found, must be sought in making it easier to feed the girl babies. Ethical, moral and religious reasons may be sound, but they will have difficulty in making progress so long as the question of food is unsettled.—Miami Herald.

Thomas Jefferson's Birthday

The United States to-day celebrates the one hundred and eighty-second birthday of Thomas Jefferson, third President of the United States, and chief author of the Declaration of Independence. To-day also begins the nation-wide campaign of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Association to raise enough funds to complete the purchase of Monticello, Jefferson's Virginia home.

Voice of People

Mr. B. C. Shelton,
Albany-Decatur Daily.
City.

Dear Mr. Shelton:—
In the issue of The Albany-Decatur
Daily of April 8th you had an editorial headed "Helping own industries
one way to make prosperity for Community." This was an excellent editorial and in my opinion a very opportunity subject for the serious consideration of our people. In our desire to bring large manufacturing plants to our cities we overlook very often the industries that have already located with us and which are at this time giving employment to people who are spending their money here and buying raw material from adjacent territory thereby putting money in cir-ulation the most of which is spent in this community.

In my opinion we need to give more serious consideration to the matter of increasing a ready market for products produced by the farmers in our community and after this market is created we need to encourage and urge our farmers to produce and to market his products in our cities. We are interested at this time in purchasing more cream and we find that we are forced to go to the Tennessee farmers to get the major part of our supply. We are now prepared to handle and have a market for 1000 pounds of butter fat daily, operating our plant 26 days per month this would mean that we would use 26,000 pounds of butterfat per month, which at the present price would mean $12-480.00 (twelve thousand four hundred Eighty dollars) that would be paid to our farmers each month. The larger part of this money would in turn be spent with our local merchants, would this be worth while?

Can our farmers produce milk and cream? Of course they can and they

The Legion is Asking Your Help! TO THE PEOPLE:

THE American Legion is raising an Endowment Fund of $5,000,000 for the purpose of taking care of the orphans and widows of the men who made the supreme sacrifice for their country. The quota for Morgan County is $1,500, less than half of which has been raised.
There are thousands of these orphans and widows in destitute circumstances through no fault of their own but because they happen to be victims of the ravages of war. It is certainly our duty to care for them and there is a solemn obligation imposed not merely upon the American Legion but upon the American people. Is our patriotism consistent and steady or does it require the throb of the war drum and the thought of impending disaster to arouse our zeal? The committees soliciting funds have not been able to see everyone and so we are making this call through the paper and trust that many will see fit to mail in their checks for this worthy cause. We feel that the majority of the people do not realize how far behind we are with our quota and that many will be glad to contribute rather than have Morgan County pointed out as one of the counties who failed to do its part.
To those who have contributed we desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation and to those who have not but would like to we extend the privilege.
Please make checks payable to I. V. Timberlake and mail to him, care of Tennessee Valley Bank or to Joe Petty, Albany.

can make money at it, if an-doubts this just get in touch with the Dairy Division at Auburn and get facts and figures.

Dairying is being carried on in other counties of Alabama where conditions are much less favorable and those farmers are making money. Let's think this over and while we are thinking let's get busy and back up our local industries and encourage our farmers to produce money crops that have ready sale fifty two weeks in the year.

Let's build Albany-Decatur while we are building the bridge, we can do it if we will.

A Real Mystery Story

The Blue Circle

By Elizabeth Jordan
Author of "The Girl in the Mirror"

How would you feel if, after you had gone to bed and extinguished the light, a blue circle began to dance about the room and you could find no explanation for its appearance? Suppose there were added to this, ghostly noises and the sound of a heavy body being dragged along the hall, while an apish arm holding a dagger appeared above your transom. It would test your nerve, wouldn't it? It tested the nerve of Renshaw, but he continued to occupy the room, although the weird visitations occurred every night, until he had solved the mystery.

One of Elizabeth Jordan's most fascinating tales.

A DAY IN FLOWERDOM

The Operetta, entitled "A Day in Flowerdom" given on Friday evening in the auditorium of the Decatur High school under the direction of the Mrs. A. T. Hanson was a most decided success due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Hanson and the splendid talent used. The stage setting was unusually beautiful and appropriate, in the first act an outdoor scene was portrayed and the Mayor and his wife of Rose Arbor were completing plans for a reception that was to be given that evening. The same scene with more elaborate decorations was used for the second act that took place during the reception, at twilight.

Those taking part were in flower costume and made a most pleasing picture. Between acts the Grotto band and the Y. M. C. A. quartet furnished musical numbers.

The cast included the mayor and Rose Arbor, Chris Makres; his wife, Mamma Jacques Rose, Harriett Bernice; their daughter, Pink Rose, Bernice Whitworth; Flora, Queen of Flowerdom, Elkins Himes; Mademoiselle Cricket, prima dona, Janes Irwin; Moss Rose, a spinster, Lonnie Kate Graham; Blue Bell, bud of Rose Arbor, Stella Meadows; Mr. Sunflower, a gay bachelor, Howard Gillam; Mr. Pansy, master of ceremonies, Ben Martin, Jr. Other members representing various flowers were Dolly Greer, Mabel Ann Hanson, Doris Peden, Louise Moody, Mary Mitchell, Adele Sherman, Luelle Keys, Rachael Carlisle, Marcelle, Buchanan, Jervis Jones, Linda Mitchell, Louise Walker, Albert Clopton, Ann Kingsbury, Cordele Gillam, Lucille Oldacre and Taplin Hanson. Miss Lucille Bailey was the able accompanist.

CANTATAS

Easter morning, the best voices in every locality were harmonizing in "Hallelujahs and praises to Christ, the risen Savior."

Easter is a great occasion to break into song. These beautiful cantatas being sung in the churches, at this season are as one man says, "the spontaneous outflow of a deeply religious nature. The cantata is the throwing of a deeper and more serious musicianship into the composition of oratorio work."

A pre-Easter program was heard the first Sunday in April at the Central M. E. Church, sponsored by the Albany-Decatur Music Study club, directed by Mrs. H. O. Troup.

Easter afternoon a beautiful cantata under the direction of Mrs. R. M. McGlathery was given in the First Methodist church as a vesper service, again was shown the appreciation of the local people, for a constructive hour pleasure for the church was filled to capacity. The church had been decorated beautifully by members of the James Duncan Circle over the chancel, depended a white cross outlined in electricity, this inspired the musicians, it was through a cathedral of noblest tone forms the grand voice of the organ pealed forth filling every nook and crevice with glorified sound as the trios, duets and choruses and solos, ascended in sound waves.

On Tuesday of this week Mesdames Joseph Pettet, R. M. McGlathery and H. O. Troup are to appear in recital at Hartselle, Wednesday evening the choir of the Central M. E. Church will give a forty-minute program at the M. E. Church South a number of musical events have been planned by Mrs. H. O. Troup in celebration of music week. That is being observed nationally.

Mrs. T. M. Faust is improved after an extended illness.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

We like the boys whom we meet, but our mother does not. The only time we invite them to the house is when she goes away. Do you think this is fair on our part?

If we want to go out for an evening's entertainment we have to be back by eight o'clock. One of us is in our teens and the other is over twenty.

Can you suggest some ways of entertaining boys at home?

BETTY AND JANE: Yes, Betty and Jane, I think you are unfair to your mother when you invite your friends to your home without her knowledge or permission.

I am sure if you have a heart-to-heart talk with your mother and explain to her that you want her to meet all your friends and know them, she will be only too glad to invite them.

As for entertaining them at home, there are many ways to whittle away an evening. If you have music at home, it is quite proper to dance. You can chat of the things which interest you, and before you know it it will be time to say good-night.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am eighteen years of age and long ago fell in love with an old boyhood chum. We became engaged last summer and have just had our first quarrel. It was all my fault and I dropped him a note and asked his forgiveness. I may have been wrong, but if he really loves me will he not forgive me?

BROKEN-HEARTED JIMMIE: There is really nothing more you can do, dear, if you have apologized to the young man, and you are certain he has received your note, if he really loves you he will overlook a little misunderstanding and write you. Why don't you wait a while for his letter? Give him time to think it over and if he decides not to answer your note, you must try to forget him, dear.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: We are two young men and are considered good-looking. We are cousins and our ages are twenty-two and twenty-one. We have been going with sisters, twins, who are nineteen years of age. We took them to a party and they were escorted home by two other boys. We love them and would like to win back their friendship. Please tell us how we may do so without losing their respect.

E. H. D. AND J. A. R.: It was most improper for the young ladies in whom you are interested to have accepted the invitation of two other gentlemen to escort them home. It is only right that they should apologize to you for this, and if they do not, you must try to forget them.

Clubs Prepare Opening Of Big Tops; Managers Say Players In Poor Shape

The American baseball follower is at last satisfied for Tuesday will witness the opening ceremonies of the 1925 baseball season in the big tops. All the clubs swing into the first real action of the year. All exhibition games were wound up on Saturday and Sunday and the clubs are at their posts awaiting the yell of the arbiter to "play ball."

In the big show every manager is quaking in his boots for fear his men are not in shape. The Cubs are hit hard with the loss of Maranville, Huggins is not certain that the Babe is ready to start home run activities. Speaker has but one hurler ready to answer the service call. McGraw fears Frank Frisch will not be ready for the opening. Something is wrong everywhere, but fandom will be out there howling even if some of the old war horses are not in the traces.

In the American league Cleveland opens at St. Louis, Chicago goes into battle against the Bengals at Detroit. Boston faces the Maeks at Philadelphia and the world champions Senators face a Yankee cross fire at New York.

The National league opens with St. Louis paying a visit to the Red Leg camp at Cincinnati. The Pirates travel to Chicago. The Phillies will tussle the Dodgers in Brooklyn and the New York Giants play at Boston.

In the Southern league the Barons open at Nashville. Atlanta goes to the Lookout stronghold for the opening series. The Chiefs play at Little Rock and the New Orleans team plays at Mobile.

They are all set for the opening day and American fandom is on its toes pulling for the first choice to get out in front from the very jump.

Power in the Blood!

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S. S. S. are really amazing!

MAN'S GLORY is his strength—yet how few there are who are really as strong as they should be. The blood thins, gets weaker, blood cells wear out—general weakness and a gradual break-down of the system results.

We know that as blood cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! But have you ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought of it. So-called skin eruptions—pimples, bolls, blackheads, eczema all pack up and go when the tide of blood cells begins to roll in. Blood cells are the fighting giants of Nature. S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood cell builders, blood cleansers and body builders known to us mortals. Here is your opportunity! S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down.

Guess It If You Can

The Blue Circle

By ELIZABETH JORDAN

Even if you are a professional reader of mystery stories, you will find one in this tale that will test your guessing ability. It seems occult, but turns out very naturally. On the homeopathic principle of like cures like, the hero suffering from a case of nerves, is put up against a series of nerve-wracking experiences. They cure him, but that is not all of the story. It contains humor along with thrilling situations. The entire affair takes place in a charming old country house among delightful people, and there is a splendid love story.

VIENNA, April 11.—The number of dogs in Vienna has increased from 40,000 in 1919 to 96,203 in 1924. This abnormal increase is reflected in the attendance of from 20 to 100 persons each day at the Vienna Pasteur Institute for the examination of dog-bites received during the previous 24 hours.

AMERICAN GRAPES THRIVE ABROAD

PLOVDIV—American grapevine stock is doing so well in this country they produce more and better fruit, that the European vine is fast disappearing from Bulgarian soil. Many thousand acres have been planted with American vines in the past few months.

Scarlet Fever's After Effects May Be Avoided by Care

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

A FEW days ago I received a letter from a mother asking how to treat a child after a severe attack of scarlet fever. She says she has been told there is much she should know about the care of the child after the fifth or sixth week of the disease.

It is true that scarlet fever is capable of producing such complications that a convalescing child must be closely watched and guarded. There are several possible dangers. Some of these after-conditions are perfectly apparent.

There may be an infection of the nasal sinuses. This will be shown by a profuse discharge from the nostrils or perhaps from one nostril. It is not uncommon to have an abscess form in one of the ears. Following this there will be a persistent discharge.

Needless to say, either one of these local infections should be given careful attention. It is natural to think they may be "outgrown," but it must be understood that if neglected they may continue indefinitely, with all the attendant dangers of pus formation.

More serious than the conditions I have mentioned is the possibility of an inflammation of the kidneys following scarlet fever. This is what the doctors call "post-scarlatinal nephritis," a serious condition.

It is not safe to assume the kidneys are perfectly normal, even though there may be no conspicuous symptoms. There must be careful examination of the urine from time to time to determine the kidney condition. Even though the child has had a very mild attack of scarlet fever, the kidney complication may be just as great as it would be in a more severe case.

Scarlet fever has the bad habit of turning loose, in the blood, germs which go to every part of the body. They select the most delicate tissues to their nefarious work. The lining of the heart may become involved. This produces what the doctors call "endocarditis," a serious complication.

All the things I have told you indicate how necessary it is to keep the child under careful observation for a long time after the acute attack of scarlet fever. He must be encouraged to get in the fresh air and sunlight, but must not be permitted to take violent exercise of any sort. Food must be nourishing. The child must sleep in a well ventilated room and should be encouraged to take a nap every afternoon.

Attention to the matters mentioned for a few weeks will probably spare the child from after-effects which might impair his health for years to come.

What I have said about the after-care of a patient who has had scarlet fever is just as useful advice about somebody who has had another infectious disease. It pays to be careful. A few weeks of idleness or semi-idleness will help to bring about a speedy recovery.

AMUSEMENTS

West Point, which forms the background of Richard Barthelmess' new production "Classmates," Princess theater today has been the training school of many famous men, ranging all the way from Grant and Lee to Pershing.

Among the other West Pointers whose names are bywords in American history were such famous men as Crooke and Custer of the Indian wars, Jefferson Davis, Burnside, McClellan, Meade, Sheridan, Sherman, Beauregard, Bragg, Early and Longstreet of the Civil War and Lawton, Otis and Wheeler of the Spanish War.

Other West Pointers were Edgar Allen Poe and James McNeil Whistler. Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal, was a West Pointer too. Probably no single institution of learning in the world can point to such an illustrious list of distinguished men.

In playing the cadet hero of "Classmates" Barthelmess is further realizing his wish to portray various phases of American life. Actually it would be impossible to play a more completely American boy.
